Stomach is quick to upset—Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will bring prompt relief and comfort

THE depressing heat makes many women careless of their health. The housework becomes extra tiresome and the hot kitchen adds to their discomfort. They eat cold and acid drinks with the result that the stomach is soon upset, and constipation follows indigestion.

It is well to know that there is a remedy that brings quick relief. It is called Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and you can find it in any drug store. It is a combination of simple laxative effects with pepsin that acts on the digestive organs and soon rids the bowels of its accumulation. Take a spoonful of Syrup Pepsin at night and the congestion, headache and feverishness will be gone in the morning. You will thank the heat with comfort.

There are thousands of women in this country who do not use anything else in these emergencies but Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. M. B. Bart, of 1045 Watkins St., Grand Rapids, Mich., relies entirely on Syrup Pepsin, and he personally knows many others who do. The medicine she formerly took for constipation made her sick to the stomach, but Syrup Pepsin milder and acts so gently and without griping that she finds pleasure in using it.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can be given to infants with entire safety. It is a truly wonderful household medicine, and a bottle should be in every home.

Millions of people of all ages suffer from occasional or chronic constipation. Let them send name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 512 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., for a free sample bottle of his wonderful Syrup Pepsin. 8 million bottles were bought at drug stores last year, the largest sale in the world.

TUBERCULOSIS IN MIDDLE WEST POULTRY FLOCKS

County agents in certain sections of the Middle West report the finding of tuberculosis in some of the chicken flocks in their localities. In order to locate and check any further outbreak of the disease they are requesting all farmers whose chickens die without any apparent cause to notify the farm bureau and to send in the livers of the dead birds for examination. The disease is likely to show in this organ most plainly.

Tuberculosis in fowls is a chronic, contagious disease characterized by the development of nodules called tubercles in various organs of the body, but most frequently in the liver, intestines and spleen. It is readily communicated to most species of birds and to several species of mammals, but it is almost impossible to communicate the tuberculosis of man and cattle to fowls.

One practical course to take when the disease is found among the chickens is to kill off the whole flock as quickly as possible and to disinfect thoroughly all the houses and runs immediately says the Bureau of Animal Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Unless disinfection is thorough the new flock is liable to contract the disease when placed in the infected houses and yards. When possible new birds should be placed on new ground. Another method of combating tuberculosis is to dispose of all hens after the second laying period and to destroy affected fowls as soon as the symptom appear.

The eggs of the diseased birds frequently contain the bacilli, experiments prove, and young chicks hatched from such infected eggs are diseased.

Dry agents in Washington are seeking more funds with which to carry on the prohibition fight.

CORN AND WHEAT SLOGAN OF FARMERS

Uncertainty of the Tobacco Crop Causes Impetus In Early Fall Farm Work

The first plowing for corn and wheat is being started by farmers of Madison county and there will be extensive work along this line, since the uncertainty of a big tobacco crop still confronts producers of the weed, and they are taking time by the forelock, and, it is claimed by many, twice the wheat acreage of the county will be recorded another year. Plowing for wheat and corn, it is stated, will occupy the attention of the farmers until cold weather, and there are prospects of the biggest acreage to wheat and corn next year in a decade. This matter has been settled upon and the work will be rushed from the start, which is now being made.

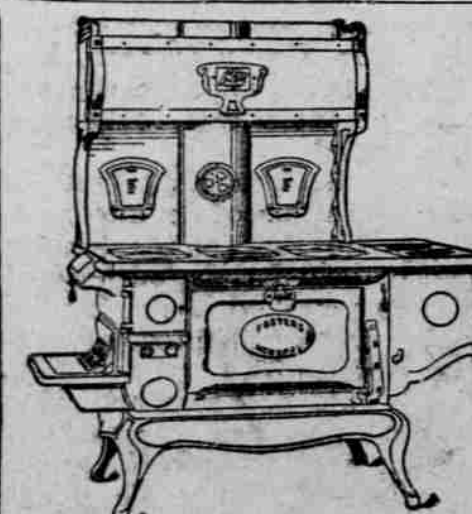

The decision of many to do away with the tobacco crop next year also adds to the interest of other products which will be more in evidence during the year 1921. The average farmer will not stake his all on tobacco, as in years past, and especially the past few years. There have been wonderful crops produced and much money realized. However, the conditions have changed, say many land owners, who are changing their plans for the future. They also state that tobacco which has been given over to tobacco steadily for years will be benefited by the change.

The last of the threshing is being done in this county and the summer crops have been well taken care of. No grain, it is claimed, has been spoiled owing to the rain, although the cold weather interfered somewhat with the finished crops in some localities, farmers relate, but not extensively. There promises to be an abundance of corn also, farmers relate, since thousands of acres are to be devoted to this. The present price of corn has stimulated the work, and there will be a retention of farm work horses for some time, owing to this fact, it is claimed. Many report there will not be the usual big horse and mule sales in Richmond and other centers, owing to the fact that the teams will be steadily engaged, breaking as much ground as possible before the arrival of cold weather.

LOYALTY OF FIREMEN

The early morning fire Sunday morning, as well as that of Sunday night, both during a drenching rain, tested the loyalty of the firemen of the city, but a canvass of the personnel found most of them complete at both conflagrations, which were kept from doing much damage, owing to the vigilance of the firemen. Many have autos in which they respond to the fire alarms, the same as the city fire truck, and most of those who have no vehicles of their own have an amazing record for "covering the ground somehow," one old resident stated, who prides himself upon having some speed of his own, when it comes to going to fires. He stated that whenever he got to the scene of the fire, no matter what a "good start he may have had," he is greeted by the firemen of the city, already on the job. The efficiency of the fire department, personally and collectively, has been demonstrated at the last two fires, either of which might have been disastrous had it not been for the promptness and persistency with which the men were at their duty.

WARNINGS POSTED AT STONE QUARRY

Public Will Be Prohibited From Using It As Highway During Blasting

Conspicuous danger signs and warnings to pedestrians informing them they trespass at their own risk were posted in various places about the county stone quarries at an early hour Monday morning as a result of the danger reported from the blasts which have been attracting the attention of nearby residents for some time.

The report that a number of houses had been damaged and that life was jeopardized at times by the terrific explosions was made at the last meeting of the city council, and an investigation made by the members of the Layton & Burks contracting company, which has the quarry lease, was the cause of the action. Charles Thompson, handler of the dynamite, and who is in charge of the work, is recognized as an expert in this line. He stated that at times his charges of dynamite were held up by the persistence of small boys, whom he would have to virtually drive from the place, and get them to a place of safety before he could let the charge go, and that the damage to the buildings was small, if any, actual damage had been wrought at all. He stated he stood ready and willing at all times to pay for any property loss accruing from the discharges, and persisted in believing that the reports were exaggerated. He stated school children, as well as many workmen used the quarry in "cutting" to their destinations, and that while he had been experiencing considerable difficulty at times in clearing the way, he was not aware of any damage done to buildings until informed of the report at the meeting of the city council. Mr. Thompson said the nearest house, with one exception, was almost a thousand feet from the quarry and that he used the house nearby from which to touch off the charges, and this building, he explained, with the exception of a slightly torn screen which he replaced with a new one, had not been damaged by any falling stone. He obtained the permission from the owner and occupant of this building to fire his charges, and there has not been any damage there. Since the blasting will continue for several weeks, and the city schools will begin in the near future, it was thought best to take the action, and pedestrians will be prohibited from making use of the property henceforth.

TEACHERS CAUTIONED

There seems to have been a decided diversion when agriculture was the subject at the examinations of the various teachers of the state, since this matter has been brought before the attention of the superintendents of county schools, with the suggestion that teachers be especially instructed to pay particular attention to this theme. The averages of many are said to have been cut down as a result of their lack of interest in the technical questions of this subject. As a result there are agricultural examinations being made in various counties with the result that the averages are much better since special study has been indulged in. This is said to be one of the most important subjects connected with the examinations in this state and it is desired that all instructors be "well read" when it is concerned in any manner, since this instruction is imperative at this period.

SWIFT'S PRODUCE REVIEW

The production of butter is heavier than a year ago; storage stocks are heavy, considering the probable outlet and as the dealers have about discontinued storing domestic production, more butter has been forced on the market, causing a drop during the week in the selling price of butter and a corresponding decline in the price of butterfat in the producing sections.

Production of eggs is somewhat lighter and some eggs are being withdrawn from storage to make up the deficiency. There has been very little change in the price situation during the week. Withdrawals of storage stocks probably will check any tendency to advance prices for the present.

The volume of live springs moving this week is much heavier and this has caused decline in prices throughout the producing territories.

PETHEY BOY!

Just a night flash by fast mail to uncork you a real fuss-stirring idea that has five aces shaded!

Now, bolt this down:—ho two people, unless they run a circus or write encyclopedias, ever agree offhand on which is a camel and which is a dromedary when you line the two up and check off one hump on one and two humps on the other. You can't do it with the sun shining!

Spill this "hump" question first time you're in a bunch of live ones—if you want to see fur fly! Never heard such a wind-jamming squall in my life as tonight when I passed it to our crowd! You know Betty Ellen Jones. Well, she said a dromedary was a he-camel hunting a date in the desert! And, Betty's "Vassar, '20"—rah, rah! All right, Betty!

All you've got to do is dig out your deck of Camel cigarettes. That "bird" out front clinches the argument—apparently—but!

In the classic language of bigger business circles—"you tell 'em Cricket, Katy did!"

Report your luck quick. Try it on old Jig Jones! And listen, Peter. I'll shortly slip you some smoke news that'll make Jake's ideas rattle like a tin can tied to a tower dog's tail! S'long!

Yours for warm socks
next winter!

TRUCK MEN VISIT HOMES

There was a contract with the truck men with the asphalt company that they be allowed to go home every two weeks, when they were employed on the Richmond job, and they departed Saturday afternoon on their semi-monthly visit. Messrs. Claxton, Cummings, Graham and Hill, all residing in Louisville, will return Monday morning. Their work has been efficient here, and their employers are quoted as saying the drivers are the most alert, yet the most rapid, workers to be found when it comes to operating trucks.

BIG STILL IN BELL

TAKES THREE BRIDES

FROM THE SAME FAMILY
Joseph Isert, of Louisville, must have found a good thing, as he has married three times into the same family. The other day he married Mrs. Sallie Hatfield Craig. His first wife was Miss Mollie Hatfield; his second wife was Miss Iva Hatfield, a cousin of his first wife. Both died and his present wife is a sister of his first wife.

DUPONT PRESIDENT DIES

Owensboro, Ky., August 7.—Col. E. G. Buckner, formerly of Owensboro, but who has been residing at Wilmington, Del., since 1902, and was president of the Dupont Powder company, is dead at Hot Springs, Va.

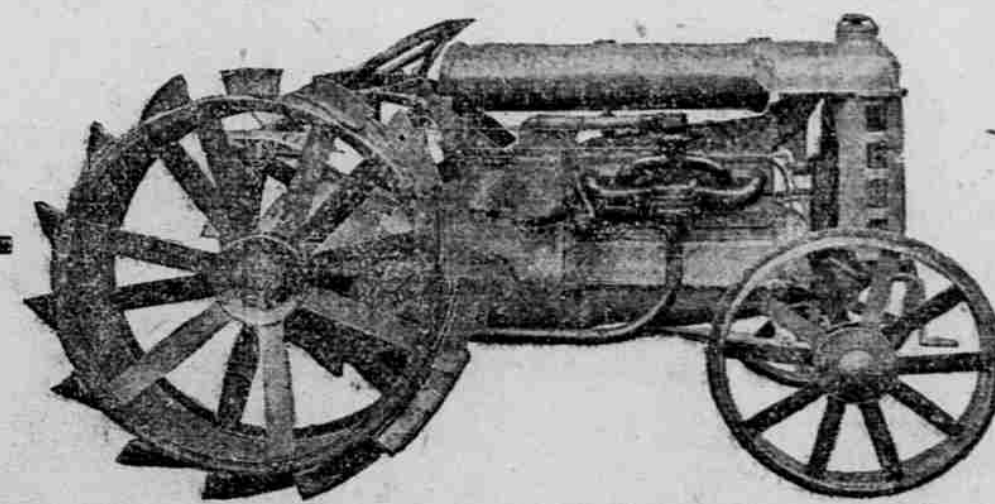

There is to be a palace representing the legion of honor to be erected at the Golden Gate, Cal., as a memorial to the war victims.

ASPHALT NEXT WEEK

The concrete, the first of which has been laid on Lancaster avenue, has set in good shape, street men state, and the first application of asphalt will take place within a few days. The assembling of the machine for making it has been completed, with the exception of a few minor parts which will be provided with the return of Mr. Merriam, the inventor, and the work will soon be under way. Then the residents will for the first time have some conception as to the appearance of the street when finished. This work will continue north on Lancaster avenue, thence east on Main street, following as closely as possible the settling of the concrete.

BALING HAY WITH A FORDSON TRACTOR

Madison county has one of the best hay crops in years, and there will be good money in baling hay this year. Don't let the other fellow get the profit on your crop when you can save it with a FORDSON TRACTOR. The cost of operating a FORDSON is about one-half what the ordinary tractor would be.

When the baling season is over, you will be ready to grind that rock your ground is so badly in need of.

That fall plowing is just a few weeks off.

You are losing money every day you put off buying a FORDSON. It is the missing link in your chain of farming implements. You can make it pay for itself during the hay season.

Think it over and see our tractor man today.
